Project title: Cinderella Club

Project objective: To encourage patients to recognize themselves not as the victim of diseases, but a survivor and victor throughout the medication process. This project also aims to enhance the collective support among patients, families and volunteers.

Target audience: Cinderella and children patients in hospitals

Project duration: a 3-hour workshop per month, running throughout the year

Time: 9:00am to 12:00pm on the first Saturday of each month

Cost: Free. Funding will be pursued from foundation and private corporate.

Anticipated number of participating patients: About 20 each month

Facilitator: Art museum education department staff

Volunteers: collaboration with the hosted hospital. Approximately 5 - 8 volunteers are needed each month. Volunteers are recruited through the museum and approved by the hospital. An one-hour-and-half training will be provided at the hospital by both museum education staff and hospital liaison.

Project overview:

• Each children will tell their own stories and how other support them throughout their medication period in the hospital.
• Patients identity who are the characters in Cinderella during their medication period: For example: Illness as Stepmother, Doctor as the Prince or the Godmother, etc.
• Collaborative work among children patients with assistance from their families and volunteers to design a toy for a kid (or patients themselves) in the group to represent the person they want to specifically thank for.
• Some toys could be collected as display in the hospital children’s corner/area, etc. that serve as an encouragement for other patients who are not able to join the workshop.
