

FULL-TIME TENURE-TRACK FACULTY POSITION IN PAINTING AND DRAWING

The Department of Painting and Drawing at School of the Art Institute of Chicago (SAIC) invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track assistant professor position to begin in August of 2023. Salary is competitive with peer institutions and commensurate with the quality of the practice, extent of teaching experience, and current professional standing.

DEPARTMENT PROFILE

The Department of Painting and Drawing at the School of the Art Institute of Chicago is an open community with a strong commitment to painting's varied discourses, histories, and experimentation. The collection of the Art Institute of Chicago is the highlight of the Department's curricular fieldwork. The department has a diverse faculty of more than 70 working artists whose work appears in galleries and museums across the globe. Further information about the department can be found at: <http://www.saic.edu/academics/departments/painting-and-drawing>.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Tenure-track faculty teach a range of undergraduate, post-baccalaureate, and graduate-level classes within the Department of Painting and Drawing, including working with MFA students on a tutorial basis. In some cases, a faculty member may also occasionally teach in collaboration with other departments within the context of an interdisciplinary art school. The faculty member will teach in areas that contribute to the general curricular goals of the department as well as in their area of specialization; take a leadership role in forging the future of the department and the school; participate in student advising, admissions events, committee work, and special projects; contribute to the SAIC community through ongoing curricular development; and participate in departmental administration and school governance.

QUALIFICATIONS

MFA degree in Painting and Drawing or a terminal degree in other relevant fields of study is preferred. A minimum of two years of teaching experience or its equivalent and a significant record of exhibitions and related professional activities are required. A strong national and international exhibition record is mandatory. Artists whose studio practice incorporates painting and drawing are encouraged to apply. Knowledge of contemporary critical and theoretical issues in painting and drawing is expected. The ability to communicate with undergraduate and graduate students on multiple levels is essential, as is engaged participation in an ongoing conversation about the evolution and future of the disciplines and department. The ideal candidate will contribute to the diversity of the School by bringing a perspective, way of thinking, and/or a unique set of experiences that expand the intellectual conversations and practices in the field. We seek candidates with the knowledge and aptitude to teach and mentor students from diverse backgrounds.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

On or before Monday, January 9, 2023, please submit application materials via <http://SAICfaculty.slideroom.com>.
