Accelerated Curriculum

We provide students who have an undergraduate degree with an accelerated curriculum. Some students enter the program as a transitional preparation for graduate school, while others seek its practical groundwork for internships and careers in the fashion industry.

Creating a Collection

The program offers formal coursework with methods and materials-oriented labs, studio research and development, and art and design history courses. The three-semester intensive advances students' skills in engaging with cloth as a medium and guides each student through the creation of a personal fashion collection.

Breadth of Possibilities

Through a combination of dedicated design studios, topical seminars, self-directed research, technical labs, design history and theory courses, plus a wide range of electives, students explore a breadth of possibilities yet achieve an in-depth focus within their individual practices.
