The Dean's Office is pleased to announce that we will be accepting applications from Lecturers for promotion to Assistant Professor, Adjunct during AY2022-23.

To ensure that the distribution of promotions addresses the curricular needs across the School, certain departments will be designated as eligible to put forward candidates for promotion to Assistant Professor, Adjunct based on curricular need.

This year, we invite applications from Lecturers teaching in the following departments for promotion to Assistant Professor, Adjunct:

- Art and Technology Studies
- Art Education
- Art Therapy and Counseling
- Ceramics
- Film, Video, New Media, and Animation
- Performance
- Sculpture
- Sound
- Writing

Promotions will become effective on August 16, 2023.

Applications are reviewed by each candidate's department, as well as the Adjunct Review Committee made up of eight faculty members (three full-time faculty, three part-time faculty, the Faculty Liaison, and the Chair of Faculty). Recommendations for promotion are then made by the Adjunct Review Committee to the Dean of Faculty.

Please read carefully the promotion eligibility criteria, procedures, and timetables outlined in this document.

Faculty who plan to apply for promotion should consult with their Department Chair(s) prior to applying, and work closely with their Department Chair(s) and administrative staff during the promotion application process.

Additional information about faculty ranks, eligibility, and the promotion process can be found in the Faculty Handbook and Faculty Handbook Supplement.

Please note that faculty who submit an application for promotion are not eligible to apply for a merit raise in the same year.

PROCEDURE AND TIMELINE FOR PROMOTION TO ASSISTANT PROFESSOR, ADJUNCT

Please adhere to the timeline below, as the dates differ slightly from those in the Faculty Handbook.

Lecturers interested in applying for a promotion must first discuss their candidacy with the Department Chair or Program Head in light of the criteria stated in the Faculty Handbook. The candidate must contact their Department Chair(s) to indicate interest in applying for promotion and to discuss departmental support in advance of applying. The Dean's Office gives discretion to Department Chairs to determine curricular needs and how a potential candidate's qualifications may meet that need.

By December 15, 2022, candidates submit application materials to their Department Chair(s). Please submit application materials in a single pdf format with a table of contents for easy navigation.

Applications from candidates must include the following:

- Cover letter
- Resume/CV
- Documentation of professional work
- Course descriptions and syllabi
- Three letters of support, either external or internal

The Senior Administrative Director will add a history of courses taught and evaluations from the last three years (Fall 2019 through Spring 2022) to each file after submission for departmental review.

Before February 7, 2023, each Department Chair sets a departmental meeting to review application(s). All full-time and part-time faculty are invited to attend and review candidate materials. Full-time faculty cast a formal vote and part-time faculty are polled for their recommendations for promotion. See Faculty Handbook Supplement, Section 4, C. Promotions, b. Assistant Professor and Associate Professor, Adjunct (pages 9-10) for more details.

By March 1, 2023, each Department Chair submits a letter (in digital form) for each candidate, along with the candidate's application and supplemental materials, that either recommends, or does not recommend, a promotion of the candidate. The letter should be addressed to the Dean of Faculty and submitted to Molly Roth Scranton, Associate Director of Faculty Affairs, at mscranton@saic.edu. At the time that the letter is submitted to the Dean, it should also be shared with the candidate.

The Department Chair’s letter to the Dean of Faculty includes the names and ranks of those in attendance at the meeting, the formal full-time faculty vote, the informal part-time faculty poll, a summary of the student evaluations, a general overview/summary of the department's discussion of the candidate, and the Department Chair's individual recommendation regarding the candidate.

If the department recommends more than one candidate, the candidates must be ranked (in accordance with the Faculty Handbook Supplement, page 10.) If they are not ranked, the applications will be considered incomplete and will not be reviewed by the Adjunct Review Committee. These rankings may be shared separately from the letter that is shared with the candidate.
In March, the Adjunct Review Committee, assembled by the Chair of Faculty, will review all application materials and make recommendations to the Dean of Faculty. The committee of eight faculty includes three full-time faculty, three part-time faculty, the Faculty Liaison (Associate Professor Adam Mack, Department of Liberal Arts) and the Chair of Faculty (Professor Shaurya Kumar, Department of Printmedia).

The Dean of Faculty will review all pertinent materials with the Chair of Faculty. Final decisions regarding promotion to Assistant Professor, Adjunct rest with the Dean of Faculty.

In May, decisions will be shared with all candidates and Department Chairs and announced to the SAIC community at commencement.
